Director Is Given Power to Critics of Bill Claim Home Rule Regulate Street Car Stops and Mules.

The House District committee yesterday favorably reported a bill to give the traffic director sufficient revenue from the issuance of drivers' permits to install electric signals throughout the city.

With Representative Gibson, of Vermont, presiding in the absence of Chairman Zihlman, the commit-tee adopted a measure which it is expected will make available approximately $330,000 to the traffic director with the issuance of new permits July 1. These permits would be for 3-year periods at $1

At the instance of Representa-tive McLeod, of Michigan, a pro-vision was inserted providing that New Jersey avenue shall be made an arterial highway with signal system from the Capitol to U street northwest. The bill would also broaden the traffic director's power to revoke drivers' permits for violation of the traffic act. As the act now stands he can revoke the act now stands he can revoke permits for violation of his regu-lations but has no authority over violators of the more serious pro-visions of the act itself.

The advisory board of the District of Columbia division of the District of Columbia division of the A. A. A. disapproved of the proposed $3 permit at a meeting yesterday and urged instead a five year permit be issued for $1.

District Business to Have Its Day in House Monday Responding to a resolution by the House District committee yesterday.

Majority Leader Tilson and Minority Leader Garrett indicated that the District will be given its regular day in the House Monday. In a special meeting yesterday the committee added the traffic bill and Representative Moore's measure to make the new District water supply available to the Arlington county sanitary district, to the House calendar.

Representative Blanton, of Texas onferred with both the House lead rs and they showed a disposition hat inasmuch as the committee had met in special session to shape up District business, to let the District have its day in the House. Previous to yesterday's action of he committee only one District bill hat to create a board of public wel fare, was pending, and Mr. Tilso had said that he saw no need of District day.

Endangered by Provisions for Personnel.

Elimination from the park and planning bill now pending in Congress of that clause which has proved most obnoxious to officials and residents of the District will be agreed to by members of the Naional Capital park commission when they appear before the Senate District committee Tuesday, it was ndicated last night

Maj. U. S. Grant 3d, executive officer of the commission, declared last night that he will be one of those to appear before the Senate committee. Although he is prepar-ing to defend the proposed measure in its entirety, he will agree to the deletion of the "obnoxious clause" to save the rest of the measure. He declared he had talked to other members of the commission and that each has a definite view of the stand he will take. It is understood that at least a majority of the com-mission, will approve and follow Maj. Grant's course.

The particularly objectionable clause, from the District viewpoint, s the ending of paragraph B, section 1, which says: "and it shall be the duty of each member of the commission to adhere in principle to the official plan of the commis-

This, it is contended, would force Lieut. Col. J. Franklin Bell, as representative of the District on the commission, to conduct the affairs of his office according to the dictates of the commission, which, it is alleged, would be a "supergovernment," rather than according to his own plans and dictates.

Section Considered Vague. Maj. Grant contends that this section of the law is vague and accomplishes very little, as it will always be open to varying constructions. For this reason he does not care particularly if the clause is deleted, if by this sacrifice the rest of the bill can be saved of the bill can be saved.

of the bill can be saved.

As to the section which reads,
"That the said commission is hereby charged with the duty of preparing, developing and maintaining a comprehensive, consistent and coordinated plan for the National Capital and its environs," &c., Maj.
Grant points out that the bill only contemplates that the commission contemplates that the commission contemplates that the commission shall be empowered to plan for the city comprehensively. The commission, by the bill, only wants to plan the city, he said. For this reason he sees no objection to the bill and has great faith in its prospects.

Critics of the measure as now pending, took advantage yesterday of the delay in the Senate committee hearing on the proposal to gather additional data on which to base their request for its revision.
The bill was searched for objectionable features. Its critics pointed on the statement of the search of Curran Will Ask Congress for Authority to Decide All Cases of Appeal.

New York, Feb. 19 (By A. P.). The Countess of Cathcart, after a ten-day battle for admission to the United States as a visitor, tonight had scaled the outer wall of the immigration department's defenses She rested, secure until Tuesday on a writ of habeas corpus directing the immigration officials to produce her in Federal court on that day to show cause why she should not be temporarily admitted to the United States under bond.

While the writ was being served on immigration authorities at Ellis island, Immigration Commissioner island, immigration Commissioner Curran issued a statement from his sick bed in which he announced that he would go before Congress as soon as possible to have a bill introduced which would give him absolute authority to decide on all cases of appeal by immigrants and visitors detained at Ellis island.

Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for the countess, obtained the wri from Federal Judge Goddard today, on her petition declaring that she had been illegally detained at Ellis island. The petition admitted that the countess had gone to South Africa with the Earl of Craven, a married man, but de-nied that this constituted moral turptitude, the grounds upon which she was ordered excluded.

Curran Denies Responsibility. The writ automatically stayed an order for her involuntary return to liner sailing for Liverpool, which was scheduled for tomorrow. The exclusion order against the countess was found by a special board of inquiry composed of three immigration inspectors. The count-

"I did not decide it at any point or in any way. The appeal from the board of inspectors went direct to the Secretary of Labor. By law and regulation I could only stand on the sidewalk and watch it go by. I am forbidden to give advice or recommendation either to the inspectors or the Secretary of Labor. Nor am I allowed afterward to inquire of the Secretary the reason for his decision," the statement said.

The commissioner said he was ready to decide all cases if Congress would allow him to do so, and to take full recognitibities. take full responsibility. The countess characterized as

But what actually happens is that the govern-ment gives back to the States some of the money it taxed their people to raise, after first holding on to enough of it to pay the expenses of huge administrative bureaus, with their red tape and frequent incompetence.

Discrimination Assailed.

"The States do not get the Federal aid outright. They must first match it with a like amount of their own funds. This often draws State funds from local purposes, which are much more needed.

"The discriminations of the system are indefensible. The Federal aid distributed by the government amounts to about $95,000,000 a year, and of course the people of all the States contribute to make up this fund through the Federal taxes they pay. ## DICKINSON FARM BILL TO FIND ROUGH GOING

National Grange Not in Accord and Other Measures Are Being Prepared.

(By Associated Press.)

Indications became more defi-nitely apparent yesterday that the Dickinson bill to deal with the farm surplus problem will, in its present form, encounter rough going in the House agriculture committee.

It was disclosed that the executive committee of the national grange was not in complete accord on the measure, and Representative Approval by the personnel classi-fication board yesterday afternoon of the dismissal of 23 employes of committee, introduced a bill for m relief somewhat similar to one marked the final step in the policy of decentralization inaugurated by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lincoln C. #### THE TAX BILL AGREEMENT.

The conferees on the tax reduction bill have reached an agreement which, on the whole, reflects credit upon the patience and fairness of both Senate and House members of the con--ference committee.

The total reduction of taxes under the agree ment is not stated, but it will be less than the Senate proposed. The Treasury can stand the reduction as agreed upon without incurring a deficit, unless Secretary Mellon's hand has lost its cunning-and no one accuses it of any im pairment of efficiency. The 3 per cent tax on passenger automobiles is restored and also the tax on admissions, but the tax applies only to tickets costing 75 cents or more. · restorations will obviate a Treasury deficit.

The inheritance or estate tax, over which there was a stubborn controversy in conference, was restored to the bill, but the high tax rates subsequent to 1921 are repealed, and taxpayers are given the benefit of the estate tax rate of 1921.

The Senate's increased reductions of sur taxes on incomes ranging between $26,000 and -$100,000 are retained in the bill. These increased reductions are in line with reductions in other brackets and are palpably just.

The capital stock tax is repealed, in accordnce with the Senate's position, but the counterbalancing tax on corporations is fixed at 13 per cent up to the end of the year 1926, after which it will be 131/2 per cent.

Congress should accept the conference report without delay, in order that the taxpayers may receive the benefits of tax reduction next month.

Dirty work at the crossroads now means gathering up the debris after it happens.

ANOTHER ROYAL ENGAGEMENT.

If that fine young fellow, Edward Windsor, Prince of Wales, and heir apparent to the crown of Great Britain; doesn't quit gadding over the earth with his commercial traveler's outfit and settle down with some nice little princess pretty soon he will lose his place on the front page. His brother Albert. Duke of York, has already taken unto himself a wife, and now word comes that another brother of the traveling prince has made a selection and will announce his engagement to a very attractive girl as soon as the period of court mourning for the Queen Mother shall end. Prince Henry, third son, and fourth child, of King George V and Queen Mary, is reported to be engaged to Lady Mary Scott, fourth daughter of the Duke of Buccleuch. The dukedom is of Scotch origin, having been ereated in 1663, and under the act of union between England and Scotland it ranks thirteenth in the British peerage. Prince Henry will reach his twenty-sixth birthday on he 31st of March, and the future princess is 20 years of age. The people of Great Britain will doubtless give hearty approval to the match, as they prefer that their princes of the realm Should look around the homeland in selecting their mates rather than spend so much time in searching the matrimonial market for a princess of the blood royal; although they have never regretted the action of King Edward who, when Prince of Wales, chose as his bride, Alexandra, daughter of the Vikings.

Why couldn't the world have been made in seven days? Look at the land Florida has made.

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATIONS.

Some one inquires. "Why should there be need of a deficiency appropriation bill carrying more than $413,000,000? What becomes of "the claim of economy in this administration when, after the regular appropriations for 1926 are made, a deficiency appropriation bill is introduced and passed, entailing the expenditure of a very large sum of money?"

The word "deficiency" might convey the im pression that Congress failed to appropriate sufficient money, and subsequently found it essary to make additional appropriations for the same work. This is not true. There are many obligations of the government which n not be foreseen. Some were created by Congress years ago; some arise out of the war many laws are enacted after the regular appropriation bills are passed, and deficiency bills re for the needs of those new laws. Such items come up in every session of Congress.

The veterans' bureau needs some $200,000, 2000: the Treasury Department needs additional ressels, money for repairs, money to pay damges and for contingent expenses. enses of the board of tax appeals are growing because of unsettled and litigated cases. The Postoffice Department is constantly having new duties and burdens placed upon it; none of mbia calls for several millions of dollars for matters impossible to foresce. The immirk thrust upon it by the need of more rigid enforcement of the immigration laws. Every department of the government has items in deficiency appropriation bills.

All these items are passed upon by the budret bureau. They have swelled appropriations in all previous administrations, and are in no States was born in Philadelphia 150 years ago. sense political. Perhaps the only item about which criticism is justified is the large amount of money appropriated for special investigations by both houses of Congress. In the first deficiency bill, this item reached the large total of some $125,000. Contested election cases cost many thousands of dollars. One investigation alone, of which nothing as yet has been heard, cost $150,000.

The laundries might more quickly attain their billion-dollar goal by finding some way to utilize the button byproduct.

THE MERCHANT MARINE.

The "independent office appropriation bill" proposes an appropriation for 1927 of $14,-000,000 for the United States Shipping Board. This is $10,000,000 less than the sum allotted in 1926. That board is blamed for many sins of omission and commission. It was handed a troublesome task after the world war, and has had to contend not only with problems of administration but with defects in its own organization.

The problem of an American merchant marine is a peace problem on its face; but that beneath is a secret war carried on daily against the creation and maintenance of an American marine. If American shippers were half as patriotic toward their own merchant vessels as the merchants of other maritime countries, the Shipping Board might be able to report to Congress a far different story, and ask for less money.

A merchant marine is essential to American growers of grains and cotton in the West and South, and to manufacturers in the East. An expenditure of $14,000,000 in 1927 is a small sum to keep American shippers out of the clutches of foreign shipping groups that might extort ruinous rates.

The Shipping Board now has 257 freighters, passenger vessels and 6 tankers in operation. The passenger service is divided between the Orient and Europe. Despite hard competition and determined foreign efforts to break down transportation in American vessels, during the twelve months ending December 31, 1925, more than 32 per cent of our exports and 31 per cent of our imports were transported in American vessels. Between 1890 and 1900 American vessels carried, on the average, only about 10 per cent of American exports and imports.

'A "dominant personality" is just a chap who knows what he wants. You can't lead. you know, if you don't know which way to go.

PRAGUE'S COMING FAIR.

One of the infant nations born as a result of the world war is Czechoslovakia, in which the principal city is Prague. When that particular section of central Europe in which Prague is located was called Bohemia it was not so difficult to remember or to pronounce the name. It is probably because of the indisposition of the average American to jeopardize his vocal organs through the exercise of linguistic gymnastics that one seldom hears Czechoslovakia mentioned in polite American society. Yet in spite of the necessity for the raid on the alphabet whenever the name is written the Department of Commerce has had one of its commercial investigators right in the very center of Europe with instructions to make a careful investigation into the present commer cial relations between the United States and the country of the Czechs.

Prague is to have a fair during the last week of next month, and the knowledge of this fact has apparently induced American manufacturers and exporters to pay more attention to the Czechoslovakian market than at any time since the creation of that republic.

Commercial Attache Hodgson reports that the United States ranks fourth among the countries which export their products to the Czechs. During the first ten months of 1925 these exports from the United States reached $26,000,000, as compared with $18,000,000 for the entire year of 1924. More than half of the American exports, or 54 per cent, were of cotton. Of this commodity 112,094 metric tons were received directly from the United States for the period of 1925 covered by the report of Mr. Hodgson, as compared with 99,615 tons during the whole year 1924. The items embraced in the other 46 per cent of American goods cover a wide range, including typewriters, calculating machines, motor vehicles of all types, fats, meats, flour, copper, tires, rubber shoes and rubber goods, leather goods and machinery of many descriptions.

At the forthcoming fair American business men will present exhibits of several hundred items of American manufacture, from tractors to tooth paste.

Bohemian glass had been long known in American homes before 1914, and since the restoration of outside trade relations. Prague has resumed its exports of glassware to this side of the Atlantic. The United States ranked ninth among the customers of the Czechs last year, and there was not a fancy goods stock in any large city of the country in which there was not displayed many articles imported from the mid-European republic of Czechoslovakia Much of the trade with the outside is of necessity carried on through Hamburg and other German cities, because of shipping facilities there afforded. But it is hoped that the Prague fair next month will stimulate closer and more direct relations with the United States and the elimination of the middle man of Germany Mr. Hodgson says, in closing his report, that 'the American section at the coming Prague fair is an important step taken in this direc tion, as regards imports."

Walking isn't a lost art. One must, by some means, get out to the garage.

THE SESQUICENTENNIAL.

In discussing the resolution to appropriate liberal sum for the part the United States is to take in the forthcoming sesquicentennial exhibition at Philadelphia, the House fought the Revolution all over again and mingled patri-

While there may be a difference of opinion as to how much Congress should appropriate for a suitable exhibition of the progress of the United States during the last 150 years, there s one thing about which all agree-Philadel phia is the proper place for the exposition, and deserves generous support in this large under taking. It is a national, not a local affair.

The exhibition had its birth in the minds of some patriotic citizens of Philadelphia in 1920. This was altogether proper, since the United

It appears that Philadelphia did not choose herself; Congress did that in 1922 after receiving a message from the late President Harding. By a vote of the city council of Philadelphia $10,000,000 has been appropriated, and $3,-000,000 has been raised from private sources in Philadelphia. A commission consisting of Secretary Hoover and Secretary Kellogg has been appointed to carry out the participation of the United States. An advisory commission of two from each State, headed by James M.

Beck, has taken charge of important features. The State of Pennsylvania has appropriated $750,000 for the exhibition. Congress is asked to appropriate $3,000,000. Just what is a proper sum for the people to spend in this historic undertaking should be determined not by economy alone, but by a memory of 150 years of marvelous progress and the vision of years more marvelous to come.

Things are rather well balanced; and if a man hasn't much of anything else, he probably stays full of enthusiasm.

WHILE THERE'S LIFE THERE'S HOPE.

The Senate on Wednesday voted to pay Mrs. Wynona A. Dixon, of Dallas, Tex., $7,666.67 for cotton seized in Louisiana by Gen. Banks, of the Union army, during the civil war. That war ended 60 years ago, and the 67 cents included in the bill is probably for interest on the original claim. But the House must act before the Treasurer of the United States may pay the bill.

Still, there is hope for the lady from Dallas. She is only 75 years of age. "Billy" McGarrahan was about 75 when the House and Senate reached an agreement to pay him for the quicksilver mines in California which he lost through the mutilation of the signature of President Lincoln on his land natent in the office of the commissioner of the general land office. "Billy" died of a broken heart when President Harrison vetoed the bill which would have permitted him to go to the Court of Claims. But women stand the strain of "hope deferred" far better than men, so that there need be no fear that Mrs. Dixon will collapse. even if the present House neglects to indorse the bill which the Senate has sent over. -

Mrs. Dixon is of the second generation of claimants for the value of that cotton which Gen. Banks is said to have "allocated to the use of the Federals." Gen. Banks was from New England, and there are sons and daughters 'even to the third and fourth generation" in that section who are still waiting for Congress to appropriate the money to pay awards of the Court of Claims in settlement of the French spoliations, which the United States promised Napoleon it would pay when the Little Corporal handed over the deeds to Louisiana territory in which section Mrs. Dixon's cotton was grown and ginned. "All things come to him who waits"-long enough.

Charles Mortimer Peck died in New York on Wednesday. "Charley Peck" was the correspondent of the Chicago Post in this city at the time of Admiral Dewey's attack upon the Spanish fleet in Manila bay. On Sunday morning, May 1, 1898, he received a telegram from Chicago, without signature, which laconically reported a very important piece of news. It read: "Reported that Dewey has entered Manila bay, has destroyed Spanish fleet with loss of two of his ships and 200 men." dozen newspaper correspondents beseiged the White House, the War and Navy departments. and the homes of every senator and member who might have information. But there was nothing available to authenticate the news contained in that "grapevine" dispatch. Dewey had cut the cable and it was not until 60 hours later that dispatches sent via the revenue cut ter McCulloch, and cabled from Hongkong brought confirmation of the story-except as to the loss of the American ships and men. There were no losses.

in Hotel.

Before an interested audience the Brunswick Panatrope, a musical re-producing instrument, operated en-tirely by electricity, was demon-strated yesterday in the Wardman

Park hotel under the direction of John H. Herr, head of the musical department at the Hecht Co. The clear tones of the panatrope caused much applause among hearers, who afterward congratulated the demon-

The Brunswick, it was pointed out represents a radical departure.

The Brunswick, it was pointed out, represents a radical departure from the conventional phonograph. It is capable of reproducing tones several octaves above and below those which fall within the range of the latter instrument. By using the regular needles employed on the phonograph, however, vibrations are literally "picked up" off the record, carried to the tubes and reproduced through loud speakers.

melody in a concert many conceded to have been one of the most notable in the history of Washington music. The theater was packed, while rows standing behind the seats proved the admiration felt in this city for the poet-composer of the violin. It was not alone his master command of technique; the caressing tones and the pyrotechnics of his ardent style, but the soul which he put into his playing that kept his audience so enthralled that finally, in order to induce it to leave the theater at the conclusion of the program, after Mr. Krelsler had contributed a generous bouquet of entire the counselor of the Legation of Latvia and Mme. A dozen questions came in swift A dozen questions can be a succession, and pandemonium was starting in the office. The morning newspapers, which went to press starting in the omice. The morning newspapers, which went to press around midnight, had received few facts and printed many surmises, but these were for the afternoon news men, whose sheets must be on the streets in the early editions in short order.

While the din was at its highest the tall figure of John entered from the corridor. Not one of the reporters missed the cringing attitude which Corliss struck, with instinctive terror in his seamed face. "Well, here's one of the government sleuths," cried one little reporter who had "served time" as a news hunter for many months around the Federal courts. "Now, can you tell us anything—these can you tell us anything—these people have every one sealed as tight as a drumhead, chief."

The chief looked around with a wide smile. Then he looked at the manners were pleasant enough but there was a hungry glitter in their faces which warned him they had long sought him, and were now going to build the story about his own adventure in connection with the much-discussed crime.

The clerks and stenographers were excited. It was evident that they feared for their bread and chops and crullers. Many of them must have been indiscreet enough to tell of the strange scene which took place on the afternoon before—of the bandaged head of the mining expert who had so strangely disappeared.

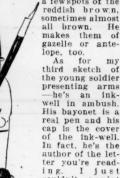

Downstairs the men of the press who earlier had endeavored to interview the night watchman, the engineer and the superintendent of the building, had been greeted with with curlosity. The old bookkeeper, run down on the street and buy any of the afternoon papers. I heard the boys barking them."

The reporters straggled in, taut with curlosity. The old bookkeeper and the story about his own adventures straggled in, taut with curlosity. KATERS of the present time glide along on steel runners, but what do you suppose the first skaters used? So far as we know, the first skaters wore brisket bones, fastened to the soles of the feet by thongs which passed around the ankles. Brisket bones were taken from the breasts of oxen which had been killed for food.

Skaters in Iceland, Holland and England used brisket bone "runners" an make better time than can any skater. The same is true for a space of 100 yards. For longer distances, however, skaters can. The world's record for the 220-yard dash is 20 and 4-5 seconds flat in 1925, while Oneil Farrell skated the distance in 19 and 4-5 seconds in the same year.

For the 440-yard dash, the runner can make better time than England used brisket bone "runners" 800 years ago. To push themselves over the ice, they used sticks pointed with iron. A London writer of the year 1180 says:

"All things are possible to those who know what they want and employ the correct actions of mind toward getting them." Fenwicke L. Holmes, author, teacher, psychologist, founder of the Southern California Metaphysical institute and claimant of the discovery of the underlying law of mind, will explain this doctrine in a series of free lectures to be given evenings at 8 o'clock, March 1 to 8, in the Willard hotel.

Mr. Holmes, who entered the ministry after graduating from a New England college, has made a study of the mind and will and their relationship to what is termed success in life, and has drawn some startling conclusions. He contends his philosophy is founded on a law as concrete as the laws of chemistry, and that everything can be proved sclentifically.

How to Get Desires

Morrow morning at 11 0 clock.

Judge William F. Norris will address at 9:45 o'clock on Washington's farewell address.

In a book entitled "Twelve Lectures in his life were preservation from death when attacked by smallity for the New Age," Albert P. Schack, the author, gives an exposition of the principles of the new Christianity as inaugurated by Emanuel Swedenborg. The lectures are those delivered in several cities by the author and are interspersed with spiritual passages which serve as a basis for the exposition of each lecture.

Church, Colored, to Go to Among the marvelous providences in his life were preservation as a basis for the exposition of each lecture.

The entire circle of the leading doctrines of the faith is discussed making the book serviceable to inquirers and space is devoted to questions and answers pertinent to the subject. The book which is attractive in binding and print is published by the Cochrane Publishing Co., of New York.

Other religious books by Mr. Schack are: "The Birth of Jesus," "The Virgin Mary," "The Knowledge of God," and a recent publication "Keeping the Commandments, With Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ." Mr. Schack is the brother of Mrs. Archibald Gracie, of this form of the prophetic utterances of his farevell address, and the strong advice he gave to the American preserving our independence from creign political alliance.

Were Washington living today, unquestionably he would take into have transpired since his time. In account the factors of change which have transpired since his time. In his day this Republic was weak and untried. Most monarchies were cor-rupt. Our country extended but little inland from the Atlantic sea-rupt. Our country extended but ittle inland from the Atlantic seaboard; our population was small; transportation was slow and world communication required months where now it requires minutes.

Today the country of which George Washington was the first President is the strongest single government in the world, boasting the largest population of any civilized nation, having the greatest resources in men and money, and instead of being a country of little consequence, the United States has become the most influential in both hemispheres. These new conditions call for new principles of action. Washington would be the first to see the need of and to voice his hopes for American participation in world affairs.

There has recently been discovered in the Congressional library a tribute paid to Washington by Abraham Lincoln in 1842. This is what Lincoln said:

"This is the 110th anniversary of Dr. F. W. # WILL HOLD ROLL CALL

Tomorrow's Attendance Expected to Be Largest in Years, Pastors Say.

NEW MEMBERS SOUGHT

All of the Presbyterian churches of Washington and surrounding territory will feature roll call Sunday tomorrow. Plans have bee Plans have been record-breaking attendance.

During the last week hundreds of visitors have made calls upon iters have been bringing back re-ports to their church offices that keen enthusiasm is manifested by hundreds of members who have grown negligent with regard to church attendance, many who have moved to distant communities are planning to make special effort to attend either their own old church or the one nearest to them.

The New York Avenue church, The New York Avenue Church, of which the Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo is pastor, will hold communion at the morning service.

Tomorrow's roll call Sunday is the first of a series of seven loyalty

Sundays to be observed, consummatsundays to be observed, consummating with Easter, April 4. During this period each Presbyterian church will make an intensive effort toward the winning of new members. Churches are setting for themselves goals of new members to be reached. The New York Avenue church, the Takoma Park and the Gunton Temple Memorial, each have set goals of 100 new members. The Metropolitan church has set a goal of 80. The entire goal set for all the churches of presbytery will represent a net gain of 10 per cent in membership during the next two months, which will be the largest enrollment in a number of years

THE communion of the soul with God. It is the necessary result of the recognition of dependent relation of the creature to the Creator. The suppliant must come in the spirit of true submission and reconciliation to God, else there is no communion.

Every prayer must contain directly or implied the petition: "Thy will Prayer may be exceeding various in form, "Uttered or Unexpressed."

It is the natural utterance of every heart in which there is a true love for the Creator. Petition may properly embrace our daily wants, "our daily bread," the general course of our life, its great affairs, our work and career, success in our efforts to perform all ordinary and extraordinary duties of our life and station, our special necessities also whether in times of crisis, in sickness and want, or in common times; but all things asked for must be in accord with the Divine Will and Plan which are for the ultimate good signs, now in the hands of prospective bidders. Indications now, however, are that the general board decided to stress protection against the 5-inch guns of modern destroyers, carrying with it a reduction in gunpower and speed. Some younger officers favor the heavy battery idea, but it is doubtful that the plans call for more than eight guns or that the speed will prove to be as high as 33 knots.

The original American design included a radical departure to save cluded a radical departure to save weight and increase speed through use of higher steam pressure than is normal marine engine practice. A more conservative policy was adopted subsequently, however, and the opening of bids was delayed to permit bidders to design power plants of normal pressure for alter mative proposals.

Bids will be opened in March for a ship to be built in a private yard, where the engine for a sister ship, to be laid down in the New York navy yard, also will be constructed.

New York, Feb. 19 .- Again to-May stock market price movements day stock market price movements were mixed, but net gains outnumbered losses at the close of a session marked by professional tradors' evening-up commitments in advance of the two-day holiday which will close the market from Saturday noon to Tuesday morning.

Fluctuations were irregular and confusing, with shorts covering in some issues, and in others traders who had been following individual stocks took profits. Still others either bought or sold short in making new commitments. Although trading was somewhat more active, with the turnover approximating 1,450,000 shares, it continued to be a highly selective market.

Publication of the second weekly seport by the Federal Reserve Bank on brokers' loans inspired bearish offices because the figures showed an increase. Consequently certain stocks were quite weak, but on the other hand, the bulls refused to be dismayed by the loans statement and dismayed by the loan statement and persistenly bid up high-grade shares. And in the end the advantage lay with the buyers rather than the sellers. tage lay with the buyers rather than the sellers.

A number of issues were advanced to new high quotations for the year as a result of concentrated the year as a result of concentrated demand. Among those to register substantial gains were American Can, which closed 7 points up from the low of the forenoon, but only 2 points net higher; United Cigar Stores, 6½ net higher; Sloss Shef-field Steel, up 4½; Columbia Car-bide, Loose-Wiles, Homestake Min-ing, Jordan Motors and Tobacco Products.

Texas Gulf Sulphur, United Drug, General Electric, and some others which showed considerable improvement at one stage or another, reacted under profit-taking and the last named closed fractionally net lower and nearly 5 points under wer, and nearly 5 points under lower, and nearly 5 points under the day's best.

Rafls were in better demand than in some time, with Atlantic Coast Line, N. Y. Central and Louisville & Nashville bid up 2 points or so. The shares of the coal roads responded to news that anthracite already was being shipped in quantity from the coal fields, by rising sharply, but while Reading and Lehigh held substantial gains, Lackawanna reacted in the late session and finished.

in the late session and finished fractionally net lower.

On the other side of the picture a number of individual stocks were decidedly weak at times as the service of the picture and the service of the service of were decidedly weak at times as bears sought out vulnerable spots and hammered away at them. Numerous issues registered new low prices for the year, among them Bethlehem Steel, although it subsequently recovered 1¼ of its recession; U. S. Industrial Alcohol, 3 points down at the close; Mercantile Marine preferred, although Marine recovered fully later; Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, finishing 2½ net lower, and Pathe Exchange A, 3½ lower. American Snuff lost 6%. Cast Iron Pipe 3¼. Fox Film A 3½, Chicago Pneumatic Tool 3, American Type Foundry 4½, and so on. Motors were erratic but rallied in the late dealings under the lead of Jordan, which registered a new peak, and Studebaker, in which a new pool appeared to be operating. Call money again renewed at 434 per cent and moved up to

Per cent and moved up to 5 per cent in the afternoon on banks' calling of loans.

Foreign exchange was generally steady, with French francs rallying slightly but failing to hold their improvement, and Swiss francs, lira and Scandinavian rates again higher, but Japanese yen broke rather sharply. yen broke rather sharply.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Feb. 19 (By A. P.).—The chief trading feature in the cotton of market again today was the demand for old-crop positions, which was controlled to further covering by rade or speculative shorts. March contracts sold up to 20.27, or 12 points net higher, and closed at 20.26. The general market closed very steady at the tadvances of 3 to 12 points.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 1 to 6 points in resples to disappointing Liverpool cables to disappointing Liverpool cables and define of 1 to 6 points in resples to disappointing Liverpool cables to disappoint the barries of the day. At the best, May sold at 19.70 and October at 18.21, the general list showing not advances of 5 to 13 points. The close was within 2 or 3 points of these figures.

Rumors that cotton was coming here from the South for delivery before the end of next month seemed to 20 south for delivery before the end of next month seemed to be seen the cotton for the same week seed of the world hard this meant there would be very few tenders and the demand for March appeared to come from New Orleans and Liverpool, as well as from local traders and domestic interests.

The week-end figures were considered hard as bearish as the early considered hards as bearish as the early considered hards as bearish as the early considered hards

Borotra Wins From U. S. Champ

Title Holder Defeated in Indoor Tourney, 13-11,6-3.

France Scores Again as Brugnon Defeats Francis Hunter.

MEW YORK, Feb. 19 (By A. P.).—Sweeping to a triple triumph on the Seventh Regiment armory courts, France's brilment armory courts, France's bril-liant Davis cup team today over-whelmed three leading American players, including William T. Til-den, and carried the tricolor into the semifinals of the national indoor championship in the biggest series of tennis upsets since this country gained international net supremacy six years ago. Vincent Richards, No. 3 in na-

Vincent Richards, No. 3 in national ranking, and Francis T. Hunter, former indoor titleholder, fell with the national outdoor champion, all three being eliminated in straight sets. Jean Borotra defeated Tilden, 13—11, 6—3, Rene LacOste defeated Richards, 6—4, 6—2, and Jacques Brugnon eliminated Hunter, 6—4, 6—4.

The success of the French players was reversal of defeats they suffered here last summer in the Davis cup challenge round and subsequently in the national turt court championships. Tilden was on the brink of defeat against both Borotra and LaCoste in the concluding chapter of the international series, but he came from behind to triumph over each in gruelling five-set over each in gruelling five-set matches. Richards, who did not play in the Davis cup matches, encountered LaCoste in the national outdoor event, however, and scored a straight-set victory.

TODAY'S unexpected results forecast an all-France final on Monday and indicate that for the second time in as many years, the title will go back to France where it was carried for the first time in the history of the event last year by Borotra.

By AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants) Casualties in football, base-ball and boxing sound like bedtime stories after talking to Cully Wilson, forward of the Calgary Tigers.

Seventy-eight stitches in his face. 26 of these in his nose, closing up the wounds of hockey warfare over a period of 14 years, is his casualty

"The worst face injury I ever re ceived," says Cully, "was when Cook, of Vancouver, slashed me across the face and broke my nose in three places. It took seven stitches to close up the gash. The stitches to close up the gash. The second worse clash was on the upper lip, when Fred Lake cracked me. The cut was so bad that I could put my tongue clean through it, and it showed on the outside. It took six stitches to close that!"

Wilson has had more than a dozen stitches in his legs and besides that he has had several head sides that he has had several head slashes and two ribs broken, knee smashed and his shoulder broken.

A large part of the increase borrowings was believed to represent funds used to carry the new securities for distribution. Money market conditions were little affected by the figures, although some calling of bank loans followed their publication.

While the general tenders.

While the general tendency of bond traders was to favor investment issues, this situation was reversed in the railroad group where semispeculative liens made the best showing. Eric Railroad obligations were unusually active, the general showing. Erie Railroad obligations were unusually active, the general 4s, registered, running up more than 3 points and the convertible issues scoring substantial gains. Other strong features were Duluth South Shore 5s and New York. Susquehanna & Western 5s. Chesapeake & Ohio Convertible 5s recovered more than a point.
